CLUB PASSIM IGUANA FUND RECIPIENT

“... Nicolás Emden has written the kind of CD that both musicians and non-musicians will appreciate with gorgeous arrangements, catchy melodies, nice grooves and a vocal talent that demonstrates emotional artistry... 'Como Los Pájaros' is proof that Emden's music has the potential to reach out to a wide audiences and big stages. In addition to great songs, Emden also has a wonderful performance style”

NOTEWORTHYMUSICREVIEWS.COM,
MARCH 6th 2017.

“... Last night I had the best theatrical experience of my life. I saw In The Heights, performed by students of the Berklee College of Music... I'm not convinced Nicolas Emden, who played the Piragüero, was not Javier Muñoz (Hamilton) brought in as a ringer.”

MEDIUM.COM, November 19th 2016.

“... there is no doubt that he is an outstanding artist who has the ability to reach large cross-over audiences stateside and internationally. The pristine arrangements and production of the instrumentals, paired with his passionate vocal and stage persona, will resonate universally... Listeners will find themselves singing along with a nice instrumental section where a crying, melodic solo takes center stage.”

INDIESPOONFUL.COM, February 24th 2017.

“... Though he was born in Santiago de Chile, Emden identifies himself (due to his own experience) with a regional point of view, after living his childhood and adolescence in Osorno... Como los Pájaros - Documentary Tour is the audiovisual record that he'll release with images of his journey throughout 8 cities, done between July and August, playing acoustic versions of his songs.”

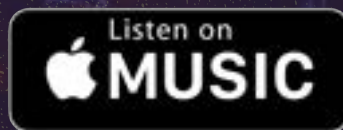

David Ponce - EMOL, August 29th 2014.
